Warranty Disclaimer

Except in only the limited express warranty set forth above, there are no expressed or implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. Goods Damaged in Transit

Tranzeo Wireless Technologies ships all items FOB Factory. This means that title for the item transfers to the owner or purchaser once the courier picks up the package. If there is damage, a claim must be filed with the courier by the purchaser or owner of the goods. Shipping damage is not covered by the warranty.

Damage claims are solely between the recipient of the goods and the courier.

Shipping Firms do have legal obligations and limitations as to when and how much to compensate for damage, but only if the claim is filed on time and in the correct manner. You must file the claim as soon as possible.

Making a Damage Claim

If you receive a shipment that appears to have been damaged by the shipper during shipping, take the steps on the on the box then contact us so we have a record of the incident. We will assist in any way we can in filing and advocating for your claim.

If you choose to accept the shipment and sign for it, have the shipper stay with you while you open and inspect the contents of the container for any additional damage that was not visible before opening. Make sure the shipper notes all damage on the shipping bill before you sign. By signing the waybill, you release the Shipping Company from all obligations unless the damage is clearly noted.

If possible, take photos of the damage and forward to the shipper and to Tranzeo. Before signing the shipping bill (for receipt of the shipment), have the shipper note on the shipping bill the exact details of the damage.

If the damage appears to be very extensive, you still should not refuse the shipment. Refusing the shipment will delay your claim.

DO NOT sign anything if you choose to refuse the shipment.
